Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, Claims 1-5, 7-9 and 11 in the reply filed on 1-5-2009 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that no larger search is required and therefore there is no additional burden. This is not found persuasive because not only is the search broader but the office actions required will be larger and more intensive. As per the previous office action the X reference cited in the international search precludes the existence, at this time, of special technical features common to all three inventions.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4-5, 7-9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Sweeney et al.(U.S.Pat.6,645,537). Sweeney discloses a beverage filter cartridge that shows inter alia, an outer container (12) with a circular rim (22). The side wall has an upper section extending downwardly from the rim to an intermediate section, and a tapered lower section having circumferentially spaced flutes extending downwardly from the intermediate section to the bottom wall. A filter element (14) sub-divides the interior of the container into two chambers (A) and (B). A beverage medium is stored in the chamber (A). A cover

Art Unit: 3742

(16) is joined to the side wall at the rim to close the upper opening. The cover (16) is pierceable to accommodate an injection of liquid into the chamber (A) for combination with the beverage medium to produce a beverage. The filter element (14) is permeable to accommodate a flow of the beverage from the chamber (A) into the chamber (B), and the bottom wall is pierceable to accommodate an outflow of the beverage from the chamber (B) to the exterior of the cartridge.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sweeney in view of St. Clair(U.S.Pat. 5,789,025). Sweeney does not explicitly show a silicone membrane. St. Clair discloses a moisture barrier membrane that explicitly shows a silicone membrane. It would have been obvious at the time of the claimed invention to use a silicone membrane as taught by St. Clair with the device of Sweeney because the silicone membrane repels water but allows water vapor to pass.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Robert, Chen, Lin and Cai are cited to show structure similar to the claimed invention.
